To Denison

To Denison, we raise our song
Fair college on the hill,
The name that sets our souls on fire,
And makes our senses thrill;
To Denison, my Denison,
In Praise our voices swell,
The scenes of happy college days,
The home we love so well.

O morning glow which gilds the east,
O sun which shines at noon,
O stars which bloom at eventide,
O radian glowing moon,
Look from the pathless asure dome,
Shed blessing from above,
In college halls and college walls,
The Denison we love.

When from the fold we far shall stray
With souls forever young,
We'll never forget our college days,
These happy scenes among;
And when our steps have feeble grown,
Our journey almost done,
E'en then with fleeting breath we'll praise,
Our dear old Denison.
-V.E. Field, 1903

On behalf of the Denison Campus Governance Association, welcome to Denison!

College is new freedom, new classes, new professors, and, new faces. As you become familiar with the campus, I encourage you to take advantage of this "face book." Not only does it give you a glimpse of the wonderful opportunities waiting for you at Denison, it allows you the chance to become familiar with your fellow classmates without the worry of remembering names! Approach the academic quad with confidence knowing that you are prepared and well aware of what your school and your colleagues have to offer.

The next four years will be an amazing part of your life. Whether through joining a particular organization or analyzing your own personal academic and social development, seize the opportunities that Denison has to offer. You now find yourself on a campus full of people your own age, pursuing similar goals and attacking the same concerns. It is up to you to seize the triumphs, defeats, work, and fun that you will experience with the rest of your class... you have only four years to make memories that will last a lifetime.

The Denison Campus Governance Association provides this book to help tackle these pursuits. A student government of significant power, we have an operating budget of close to half a million dollars to allocate funds to organizations, promoting the needs and interests of the student body. I encourage you to become involved with DCGA by sitting in on a weekly Senate meeting or even campaigning for a representative's position once you arrive on campus. As you determine your personal experience at Denison, I hope your involvement on this campus will improve the Denison community as well.

Best wishes for your time on the hill!

Elisabeth Imhoff

Student Body President 2002-2003

Denison Campus Governance Association

A Philosophy, Politics, and Economics major, Lis comes to Granville from Pasadena, California... a long and cold trek. In addition to DCGA, she is involved in recruitment for the Admissions Office, Delta Delta Delta sorority, intramural sports, film, and art. Most likely, she's at work in the DCGA office on the third floor of Slayter... please stop by to visit her with questions about Senate, the campus, or college life in general.

A native and lifelong resident of Raleigh, NC, Frank Ward is a proud member of the Class of 2004. An English major with a focus in writing, Frank is involved in various campus groups and organizations. Now in his third year serving as a member of the DCGA (Denison Campus Governance Association), Frank is also a DJ on 91.1 WDUB (Denison Radio), a Brother of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, active in University Intramural competition, and also involved with SAC (Student Activities Council). In addition, Frank has numerous hobbies, which include traveling, writing, photography, basketball, music, time with friends, family, and his girlfriend, reading, having conversations at four in the morning, and the list goes on and on...

To The Class of 2006:

Welcome to the most engaging and spontaneous four years of your life! College is a place that will challenge your wits, your beliefs, and your conception of life. I commend you for choosing this fine College for your life preparation. Denison is not just a place. It is a diverse web of experiences; academic and social, political and athletic, challenging and exhilarating.

You will soon come to find if you haven't already, that the biggest strength Denison is the people. These people, your peers, professors, administrators, and in fact, all who are a part of this College at any level, are your allies and friends. It goes without saying that any college is home to a collaborative mix of individuals. There are a myriad of views expressed in this party of people that you will soon come to find. Here at Denison, there are people from across the fruited plain, people who come from different places, unique backgrounds, and have equally unique stories to share as to how they arrived here, atop "the Hill."

It is quite clear that people come to college for innumerable reasons, however there is one unchanging quotient; we're all here for a reason and thus we all serve an important purpose. If there is one bit of advice that I can give to you it is to never forget the power of people. Don't ever forget how important you are or how important others are. It is certainly not a pre-requisite at this school or any other that you agree with everyone's opinions or that you instantly become best friends with every person that you encounter, but to respect and attempt to understand one another and each other's diverse opinions is paramount to a successful learning experience here at Denison or any other place you'll venture to in life.

I encourage you to make a sincere effort to meet as many of your fellow classmates and Denisonians as possible. In doing so, I assure that you will discover a microcosm of the world: people who all have a story or two to tell and a great deal to teach you. I hope that you will keep your ears open and your arm extended, ready to meet new and interesting people who will teach you great things and likewise gain immensely from you. I charge you to take advantage of all your many opportunities for intellectual and life advancement here at Denison.

As your Student Body Vice President, you have in me a friend, a listener, a supporter, and a leader who will work to do what is in all our best interests. Remember the power of people, and in that remember, that I, along with the over two thousand people here, support you. In return, we hope that you will support us in our many endeavors. Prepare yourself for the most fulfilling adventure of your life. Enjoy your time here at Denison, and don't forget to study, eat, sleep, bathe every once in a while, and make time to call home, too. I wish you the best!

with right Hopes

Frank Ward

P.S. I highly recommend four in the morning conversations. They could quite possibly be one of the most enlightening experiences of your college career.

What is the DCGA Senate? Things to know...

Senate is composed of a group of representatives elected by the general student body. Each class has two co-governors and eight senators. There are also two representatives from each of the following communities: African American, Asian American, Gay/Lesbian/Bisexual/Transgender, International, Jewish, and Latino. Senate also has a President and Vice President, who serve as leaders not only for the Senate, but for the entire student body, as well. Elections are early in the fall for first-year students and in the spring for all other positions. Through both legislative decisions and work within individual committees, Senate works to change the way the campus is governed and to represent the concerns of the student body. If you have a problem or concern with anything on campus, talk to your DCGA representatives about it and ways to get involved. Senate meets Tuesday night at 6:30 in Knapp Amphitheatre, and every Senate meeting is open to the public. We encourage everyone to visit and learn more about the work that your representatives do to improve campus life.

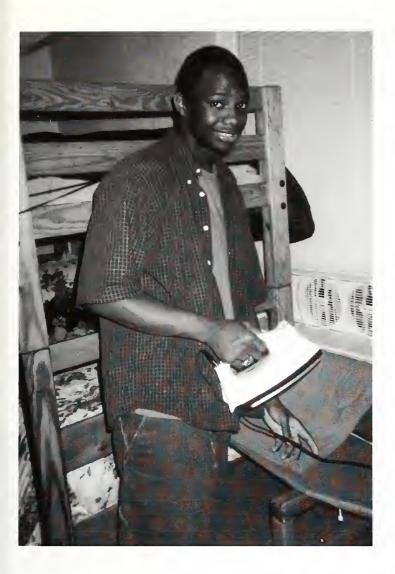

Residential Life

The residence halls are not simply the place where you try to catch six hours of sleep every night. In each dorm a small community is built through hall meetings, roommate relations, study groups, and friendships. The people that you live with will become your family away from home. You will learn everything from how to do your laundry to how to throw a great dance party in the dorm.
